Welcome to another edition of Galena, our annual newsletter!

I'm delighted to present this third edition of our annual newsletter. This volume offers a glimpse into the exciting developments and initiatives that shaped our company culture in 2023.

At East Coast Group, we strive for excellence not only in business but also in creating a thriving work environment for all. For the year 2023, we took a significant step forward with the launch of our new "Online Leave Management and Attendance System" through HRIS. Recognizing the importance of collaboration for a seamless workflow, we provided comprehensive training sessions and established ongoing support from HR, IT, and the HRIS software team.

This marks the beginning of a more comprehensive and employee-friendly system. While HRIS currently manages the leave process, we have plans to expand its functionalities to include easier conveyance requests, vehicle requests, and even an appraisal system – all within the platform.

Beyond streamlining processes and achievements of our individual concerns, we remain committed to fostering a positive and engaging work environment. In 2023, we hosted a variety of successful employee engagement programs, including our well-loved Pitha Uthshob celebrations, a dedicated Women's Day event, and the ECG Family retreat.

We also take immense pride in fulfilling our corporate social responsibility. We actively support underprivileged communities while investing in personal growth through educational and training initiatives. Within this third edition of Galena, you'll find detailed information and captivating galleries showcasing these efforts.

I hope you enjoy reading Galena Vol III and gain a deeper understanding of the vibrant culture we're cultivating here at East Coast Group.
